

Sharepoint Collaboration Questions

I know that Microsoft Sharepoint is a web place for document collaboration but I do not know how to start.

- What software do I need to have?

Thanks

- Where to register an account?

- Is there any free sharepoint service?

Answer :: You can learn more about Microsoft Sharepoint at the site bellow

SharePoint is better for sharing documents -- it allows for better document classification folders, and upload/download and management of any kind of documents. It's not appropriate for HTML data or for linked docs like a wiki. If you're trying to manage documents, use SharePoint or an equivalent document or portal software. If you're talking HTML with lots of external links and no docs, use a wiki.

Answer :: The above answer is sufficient. Read More
